Quoted texts typically appear in italics and are referenced in documented endnotes. Some Charles Darwin quotes are highlighted in yellow to facilitate analysis of the issues addressed.

Credit lines identify photo sources to the extent known in harmony with the “fair use” doctrine. Photo images, published on the internet without definitive attribution or notice of copyright, are identified as such until the source can be more clearly confirmed.

Chuck Nelson, a retired law enforcement officer, grew up in the shadow of California’s Mt. Shasta. Inspired by the Creator’s gift to all mankind, Nelson’s camera has captured a glimpse of that majestic resource, preserved and referenced here for the entire world to enjoy.

The entire Nelson portfolio can be seen online.
